Valency and Bonding: A Natural Bond Orbital Donor-Acceptor Perspective Frank Weinhold, Clark R. Landis

This textbook develops the foundations of Lewis- and Pauling-like localized structural and hybridization concepts to present the first modernized overview of chemical valency and bonding theory. Directly based on current computational technology, it serves as both a general textbook exposition of modern Lewis, hybridization, and resonance concepts and a comprehensive compilation of NBO-based bonding descriptors-for prototype molecular and supramolecular organic and inorganic species.
